General Works

Lot No 1. Lolli, Giambatista. *Osservazioni Teorica-Pratiche sopra il Giuoco degli Scacchi. 1st edition, Bologna, 1763. Van der Linde page 372; White's Collection I page 322; L/N 522.

Lolli used Ercole del Rio's Sopra il Giuoco degli Scacchi (1750) as the basis for this great encyclopaedic work on chess. "Lolli's book is divided into three parts, of which the first is the annotated text of del Rio's volume of 1750, preceded by a letter from that writer with many valuable hints for the player; the second is a similar treatise dealing with the defence, written expressly for the book by del Rio, and elaborately annotated by Lolli - a very necessary thing, for del Rio's text was even more difficult than that of the earlier work; and the third is a treatise on the ending by Lolli himself." (Murray, 'A History of Chess', 1962 reprint, page 868.)

Collation: original free-end papers intact, two leaves dedication, 632 pages. Wide margins. Woodcut tailpieces.

Original binding in Italian calf with contemporary marbled boards, the spine is slightly rubbed top and bottom, corners are bumped, one corner is slightly spread, front and top edges of boards are rubbed, slight worming at front paste-down and front free endpaper. The front free-end paper and the title-page are split at hinge, the front side of the spine is slightly shaken. Woodcut illustrations on the title page. Small stain on pages 13 through 18, light ink notes on pages 9 and 29; intermittent discoloration, some corrugation as is usual. Condition very good.

Lot No 3. Caxton William. 'The Game of the Chesse'. Reproduced in facsimile from a copy in the British Museum. With a few remarks on Caxton's typographical reproductions. By Vincent Figgins. L/N 4228. This is a scarce first edition of Figgins's magnificent facsimile edition of the 1482 Caxton. All three editions (1855, 1860 & 1862) are extremely scarce.

The 1st and the 2nd editions are illustrated with woodcuts and Figgins made the type-face and the paper as closely as possible to imitate the original.

Bound in full calf in the style of medieval binding, with large raised bands and embossed woodcut on the front cover and Caxton's device embossed on the lower cover. Front hinge (cover) is partially detached (3 quarters of the hinge); slightly bumped at corners, some rubbing and bumping at top and bottom of the spine. Coloured edges, very clean and crisp throughout. Very good condition. This is a scarce book, particularly in this binding.

Original binding, gilt stamping on the front board, gilt spine and gilt edges. The spine is slightly bumped on the top and bottom, slight bumping to the corners; the covers are slightly soiled; evidence of expert repair to the spine. Both the upper and the lower covers have signs of repair on the inside. The title page browned and has a small ink sign (possibly name of former owner) on top of it. The top part (about ¼ of a page) of the dedication page is missing, apparently without loss of text. A few pages have light foxing, otherwise condition is good.

Lot No 63. ‘Deutsche Schachzeitung’. L/N 6047. A complete run, comprising volumes 1-137, it is unbroken from the first volume, published in 1846, to the last, published in 1988. This magazine first appeared as Schachzeitung and became Deutsche Schachzeitung in 1872. It was not published in 1945-1949 - the only break in its long history until it ceased.

Bindings are not uniform, but condition is, in all cases, very good, with all frontispieces, and contents pages present. Some minor foxing to earlier volumes, consistent with the paper of the period. Some of the earlier volumes have contemporary binding: 1848, 1853, 1855, 1856, 1859/1860. Volumes of 1848 and 1859/1860 are particularly nicely bound – in half calf, with raised bands and marbled boards.

Obviously volumes in such a long run came from different sources, so volume of 1846 and 1859/60 have stamp of the Wiener Schach Club, volume of 1850 has a stamp of the Glasgow Chess Club, while the volume of 1852 has a stamp of Café International.

Condition of the run very good. This is one of the rare occasions when a complete run of this famous periodical comes on the market, which represents an excellent opportunity to the collector and the historian to acquire an exceptional run of this periodical.

Lot No 67. 'The Dubuque Chess Journal', Iowa, USA. 6 volumes, covering 1875, 1877, 1878, 1886 and 1889. L/N 6392. This was a very erratic chess publication, which changed name a few times, e.g. it was also called 'The Chess Journal' and 'Brownson's Chess Journal'.

1) Volume VIII. January-December 1875 (Nos. 59-69). 620 pages, pagination is continuous; there are some supplements enclosed ('By-Laws and Rules of Play of the American Chess Association' and 'Carpenter's Chess Problems'), some of them with numbered pages, which complicates the overall pagination.

Cloth binding with gilt spine, the spine and boards are slightly rubbed and faded, the spine is slightly bumped top and bottom, corners of the boards are slightly bumped too. Some pages are slit at hinge, some pages foxed. Stamp and small pencil mark on the title page. Condition is good.

2) Volume X. 1877. February 1877 – December 1877, (No. 74-82) 'Brownson's Chess Journal'. 344 pages, pagination is continuous; there are some supplements enclosed, some of them with numbered pages, which complicates the overall pagination.

Half bound, gilt spine, coloured edges. The spine is rubbed, worn and semi-detached; corners of the covers are rubbed, worn and bumped.

Endpapers are split at hinge, there is ex libris of Eugene Strens at the paste-down endpaper and sign 'John Watkinson' on the free endpaper. Light foxing to some pages, very clean throughout, condition is good.

3) 'The Chess Journal' Games and Problems with Solutions. 1878 and 1886. January-March 1878 (No. 83-85); 104 pages, pagination is continuous. April-December 1886; 'Brownson's Chess Journal', about 30 pages per issue. Then the same volume includes 2nd edition of 'Chess Problems by George E. Carpenter'. Rockdale, Iowa 1886. That contains 66 two-moves and 80 three-moves, alone with solutions. Then this volume includes 'The Dubuque Chess Journal Problem Tourney. January to June 1871' Dubuque, Iowa. 48 pages.

Bound, gilt spine. Foxing, mostly light, on some pages, condition is very good.

4) 'Chess Journal' January-December 1887 (No. 95-106).

Half bound, the spine is slightly bumped and rubbed top and bottom, corners and the upper cover are slightly bumped. There is ex libris of Eugene Strens at the paste-down endpaper, light foxing to a few pages. Condition is very good.

5) 'The Chess Journal' Games and Problems with Solutions. 1888. January-December 1888 (No. 107-118).

Bound, the gilt spine is slightly worn and bumped top and bottom, there is a registration number on the spine and stamp of Brooklyn Public Library on the edges. Stamp of that library also appears on the lower free endpaper. The free endpaper is detached, some pencil marks on the title-page, most pages browned considerably, some pages has light foxing, otherwise condition is very good.

6) 'The Chess Journal' Games and Problems with Solutions. 1889. January-December 1889 (No. 119-130).

Bound, the gilt spine is slightly bumped top and bottom, there is a library stamp on the title-page, the title page foxed, most pages slightly yellowed, endpapers foxed, otherwise condition is very good.

Lot No 72. A collection of manuscript items, belonging to Akiba Rubinstein. The lot consist of 3 notebook, written in long-hand - some notes are in German, some in Russian, some in Hebrew. Sometimes Rubinstein used different languages on the same page. Contents of the notebooks are varied and include Rubinstein's opinions of the playing style of Capablanca and Nimzowitsch (in German) and his impressions of Reti's book (in Russian). One notebook is exclusively in Hebrew. We hired an expert in Hebrew to examine it and he confirmed that this notebook consists of a manuscript of a complete chess manual, which Rubinstein obviously worked on. The second notebook with Hebrew text appears to be the extension of that planned chess manual, where Rubinstein described chess struggle, pieces and their qualities in a very accomplished literary manner. According to the expert consulted, this text may be of great interest to Judaic scholars because of the richness of Rubinstein's language and literary style. This notebook is dated 1927 on the cover and it appears that other notebooks are from the same period. Other items include 3 letters and 2 telegrams to Rubinstein from Pzepiorka (in Polish, dated 1930-1931). They also include a letter from the organisers of the San Remo tournament (1930), a letter of invitation from the Berliner Schachgesellschaft with conditions (in German, 1927), a letter of invitation (in French) with conditions to come Liege (1930) and a personal letter on Rubinstein’s own headed paper. This letter is in Russian and it appears to be written to Rubinstein by a woman. The letter starts: "Thank you for your letter. This is the first time in our lives when you write to me more often than I do to you." The notes are very clear; sections in one of notebooks are loose (the spine is gone), but the contents are good. Rubinstein did not leave many notes after him and thus this lot may be of great interest to those collecting chess memorabilia.	This lot’s general view:  Rubinstein’s notes on Nimzowitsch and Capablanca:  4 Rubinstein’s signatures in one of the notebooks:
